Forward-Looking Statements

This Form 6K contains forward-looking statements. James Hardie may from time to time make forward-looking statements in its periodic reports filed with or furnished to the SEC, on Forms 20-F and 6-K, in its annual reports to shareholders, in offering circulars, invitation memoranda and prospectuses, in media releases and other written materials and in oral statements made by the company's officers, directors or employees to analysts, institutional investors, existing and potential lenders, representatives of the media and others. Statements that are not historical facts are forward-looking statements and such forward-looking statements are statements made pursuant to the Safe Harbor Provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995.

Examples of forward-looking statements include:

- statements about the company's future performance;
- projections of the company's results of operations or financial condition;
- statements regarding the company's plans, objectives or goals, including those relating to strategies, initiatives, competition, acquisitions, dispositions and/or its products;
- expectations concerning the costs associated with the suspension or closure of operations at any of the company's plants and future plans with respect to any such plants;
- expectations concerning the costs associated with the significant capital expenditure projects at any of the company's plants and future plans with respect to any such projects
- expectations regarding the extension or renewal of the company's credit facilities including changes to terms, covenants or ratios;
- expectations concerning dividend payments and share buy-backs;
- statements concerning the company's corporate and tax domiciles and structures and potential changes to them, including potential tax charges;
- statements regarding tax liabilities and related audits, reviews and proceedings;
- statements regarding the possible consequences and/or potential outcome of the legal proceedings brought against two of the company's subsidiaries by the New Zealand Ministry of Education and the potential product liabilities, if any, associated with such proceedings;
- expectations about the timing and amount of contributions to Asbestos Injuries Compensation Fund (AICF), a special purpose fund for the compensation of proven Australian asbestos-related personal injury and death claims;
- expectations concerning indemnification obligations;
- expectations concerning the adequacy of the company's warranty provisions and estimates for future warranty-related costs;
- statements regarding the company's ability to manage legal and regulatory matters (including but not limited to product liability, environmental, intellectual property and competition law matters) and to resolve any such pending legal and regulatory matters within current estimates and in anticipation of certain third-party recoveries; and
- statements about economic conditions, such as changes in the US economic or housing recovery or changes in the market conditions in the Asia Pacific region, the levels of new home construction and home renovations, unemployment levels, changes in consumer income, changes or stability in housing values, the availability of mortgages and other financing, mortgage and other interest rates, housing affordability and supply, the levels of foreclosures and home resales, currency exchange rates, and builder and consumer confidence.

Words such as "believe," "anticipate," "plan," "expect," "intend," "target," "estimate," "project," "predict," "forecast," "guideline," "aim," "will," "should," "likely," "continue," "may," "objective," "outlook" and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements but are not the exclusive means of identifying such statements. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements and all such forward-looking statements are qualified in their entirety by reference to the following cautionary statements.

Forward-looking statements are based on the company's current expectations, estimates and assumptions and because forward-looking statements address future results, events and conditions, they, by their very nature, involve inherent risks and uncertainties, many of which are unforeseeable and beyond the company's control. Such known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors may cause actual results, performance or other achievements to differ materially from the anticipated results, performance or achievements expressed, projected or implied by these forward-looking statements. These factors, some of which are discussed under "Risk Factors" in Section 3 of the Form 20-F filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on 26 June 2014, include, but are not limited to: all matters relating to or arising out of the prior manufacture of products that contained asbestos by current and former James Hardie subsidiaries; required contributions to AICF, any shortfall in AICF and the effect of currency exchange rate movements on the amount recorded in the company's financial statements as an asbestos liability; governmental loan facility to AICF; compliance with and changes in tax laws and treatments; competition and product pricing in the markets in which the company operates; the consequences of product failures or defects; exposure to environmental, asbestos, putative consumer class action or other legal proceedings; general economic and market conditions; the supply and cost of raw materials; possible increases in competition and the potential that competitors could copy the company's products; reliance on a small number of customers; a customer's inability to pay; compliance with and changes in environmental and health and safety laws; risks of conducting business internationally; compliance with and changes in laws and regulations; the effect of the transfer of the company's corporate domicile from The Netherlands to Ireland, including changes in corporate governance and any potential tax benefits related thereto; currency exchange risks; dependence on customer preference and the concentration of the company's customer base on large format retail customers, distributors and dealers;

TARGETTING THE RIGHT PRODUCT INTO THE RIGHT MARKET

Asia Pacific Core Markets

JHX APPROACH TO CAPITAL MANAGEMENT

Objectives

- To optimize our capital structure with a view towards a target net debt position in the range of 1-2 times EBITDA excluding asbestos

Strategy

- While reinvesting in R&D and capacity expansion required for growth;
- Provide consistent dividend payments within the payout ratio of 50-70% of Adjusted Net Operating Profit; and
- A continued commitment to share buy back program together with possible use of special dividends.

Framework

- Manage capital efficiency within a prudent and rigorous financial policy
  - Ensure sufficient liquidity to support financial obligations and execute strategy
  - Minimize cost of capital while taking into consideration current and future industry, market and economic risks and conditions
  - Fund CAPEX and reinvestment in our capacity and capability
  - Maintain flexibility to capitalize on market and strategic opportunities
- Strong cash flow generation expected to continue and grow

JHX FY15 LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL ALLOCATION

Liquidity

- In May 2014, we added US$150.0 million of credit facilities intended to replace and augment an existing US$50.0 million credit facility which expired on 14 February 2014
- With the addition of this facility, we have US$505.0 million of combined credit facilities available to us with a combined average tenor of 3.0 years

Buybacks

- In May 2014, we announced a new share buyback program to acquire up to 5% of our issued capital during the following 12 months
- During the quarter, we repurchased and cancelled 715,000 shares of our common stock under the May 2013 program, at a total cost A$9.8 million (US$9.1 million) and an average market price of A$13.69 (US$12.73)

Dividends

- An ordinary dividend of US32.0 cents per security and a special dividend of US20.0 cents per security, totaling US$230.3 million, was paid on 08 August 2014 from FY14 earnings

JHX FY15 GROUP OUTLOOK

USA and Europe Fiber Cement

- The US operating environment continues to recover, but at a more modest pace than expected earlier this year
- The recent flattening in housing activity has created some uncertainty about the pace of the recovery in the short-term
- Our medium-term view on the recovery is unchanged. To capitalize on the growing market demand and anticipated market penetration, we continue to invest in additional manufacturing capacity across the US
- EBIT to revenue margin is expected to remain within our target range of 20% - 25% for fiscal 2015, absent any major external factors

Asia Pacific Fiber Cement

- In Australia, net sales from the Australian business are expected to improve, tracking in line with expected growth in the detached housing market and an expected positive movement in the repair and remodel market
- The New Zealand business is expected to deliver improved results supported by a stronger local housing market, particularly in Auckland and Christchurch, although at a more moderate rate of growth than prior year
- The Philippines business is expected to grow, driven by increased penetration in to a relatively flat repair and remodel market, together with increased penetration into the growing residential high rise market

JHX FY15 GUIDANCE

- Management expects full year Adjusted net operating profit to be between US$205 million and US$235 million assuming, among other things, housing industry conditions in the United States continue to improve at a more moderate level than originally assumed at the beginning of the year, and that an exchange rate at or near current levels is applicable for the remainder of the fiscal year
- Management cautions that although the US market is recovering, uncertainties about the pace of the recovery in the short term remain. Further the market price for input costs remain volatile and continue to impact earnings
- Management is unable to forecast the comparable US GAAP financial measure due to uncertainty regarding the impact of actuarial estimates on asbestos-related assets and liabilities in future periods

<sup>1</sup>Excludes asset impairment charges of US$14.3 million and US$16.9 million in FY12 and FY13, respectively

<sup>2</sup>During the second quarter of FY14, the company refined its methodology for calculating average net sales price in both the USA and Europe and Asia Pacific Fiber Cement segments to exclude ancillary products that have no impact on fiber cement sales volume, which is measured and reported in million square feet ("mmsf"). As the revenue contribution of these ancillary products been increasing, the company believes the refined methodology provides an improved disclosure of average net sales price, in line with the company's primary fibre cement business, which is a key segment performance indicator. The company has restated average net sales price in the prior periods to conform with the current calculation of average net sales price.

ASIA PACIFIC FIBER CEMENT – 5 YEAR RESULTS OVERVIEW

<sup>1</sup>Excludes New Zealand product liability expenses of US$5.4 million , US$13.2 million and US$1.8 million in FY12, FY13 and FY14, respectively

<sup>2</sup>During the second quarter of FY14, the company refined its methodology for calculating average net sales price in both the USA and Europe and Asia Pacific Fiber Cement segments to exclude ancillary products that have no impact on fiber cement sales volume, which is measured and reported in million square feet ("mmsf"). As the revenue contribution of these ancillary products has been increasing, the company believes the refined methodology provides an improved disclosure of average net sales price, in line with the company's primary fiber cement business, which is a key segment performance indicator. The company has restated average net sales price in the prior periods to conform with the current calculation of average net sales price.

JHX 1ST QUARTER FY15 GROUP RESULTS

- Earnings impacted by:
  - Higher sales volumes and average sales prices across all business units;
  - Higher production costs, primarily due to higher market prices for input costs and plant inefficiencies; and
  - Higher organizational spend, primarily due to an increase in stock compensation expense and an increase in discretionary spend
- Continued capital expenditure on key production capacity projects across our business units
- Decrease in cash generated by trading activities to US$83.6 million for the current three month period compared to US$87.9 million in the prior corresponding period
- During the quarter we repurchased and cancelled 715,000 shares of our common stock, at a total cost A$9.8 million (US$9.1 million) and an average market price of A$13.69 (US$12.73)
- An ordinary dividend of US32.0 cents per security and a special dividend of US20.0 cents per security, totaling US$230.3 million, was paid on 08 August 2014 from FY14 earnings

Net operating profit	28.9	142.2	(80)

- Net sales increased 12% favorably impacted by:
  - Higher sales volumes; and
  - Higher average net sales prices in local currencies
- Gross profit margin decreased 30 bps impacted by:
  - Higher production costs; primarily higher market prices of input costs and plant inefficiencies
- SG&A expenses increased:
  - Higher stock compensation expenses caused by a 47% appreciation in our stock price versus prior year
  - Higher discretionary spend related to product and market development activities
- Between EBIT and net operating profit:
  - Interest expense increased due to changes in the net debt position of AICF
  - Other expense increased largely as a result of realized and unrealized foreign exchange losses
  - Income tax expense increased 12% due to a higher effective tax rate

Summary

- Asbestos adjustments were favorable due to a 2% favorable change in the Australian dollar spot exchange rate against the US dollar from the beginning balance sheet date to the ending balance sheet date for the period. In the prior corresponding quarter the change in spot rates was 11% unfavorable.
- The New Zealand weathertightness liability decreased as a result of higher rate of claim resolution, fewer open claims at the end of the quarter and continued reduction in the number of new claims received
- Adjusted net operating profit decreased 4% due to:
  - 5% increases in operating segment EBIT
  - Higher general corporate costs, net interest and other income, and tax expenses

USA AND EUROPE INPUT COSTS

Quarterly US Input Costs

Discussion

- Input costs are significantly up over the prior year, primarily driven by pulp, silica and cement
- Many of our input costs fluctuate in-line with commodity prices tracked by external indices; the chart to the left trends some of these external sources
- The price of NBSK pulp is at a three-year peak
- The cost of gas for industrial users has nearly doubled over the last 2 years
- We are engaged in effective sourcing strategies to reduce the impact of increasing market prices

The information underlying the table above is sourced as follows:

- Pulp – Cost per ton – from RISI
- Gas – Cost per thousand cubic feet for industrial users – from US Energy Information Administration (May 2014 monthly data)
- Electric – Cost per hundred kilowatt hour for industrial users – from US Energy Information Administration (May 2014 monthly data)
